

AN UPDATED MESSAGE TO OUR VCDA FAMILIES & COMMUNITY PARTNERS

August 21, 2020

Dear VCDA Families & Community Partners:

Our VCDA team are moving back out into the community over the coming weeks! Our Family Toy and Resource Library have re-opened and toys and materials are now available for loan to all VCDA families again. Strict cleaning protocols are being followed to protect your family's safety. Our Behavioural Interventionist is now able to drop off programming materials, resources and toys to family's homes following social distancing guidelines.

Beginning the week of September 14th our Behavioural Interventionist will be offering families in-person visits or remote service delivery. Your Behavioural Interventionist will be in touch with you soon to discuss your service options. You can change your decision around in-person or remote service delivery at any time during your VCDA services. We encourage you to talk to your Behavioural Interventionist about what will work best for your family.

Community consultations to childcare programs, pre-primary programs and schools will also be available after September 14th. Outreach Visit protocols will be followed to ensure the safety of our Behavioural Interventionist and the families and programs they are working with.

We look forward to continuing our work together.

Please do not hesitate to contact us if you have any questions regarding VCDA
